

Have you still not earned all your CPD points to renew your registration with ECSA?

3S Media, a B2B media company, has developed an online programme specifically designed for busy professional engineers like you, who need flexible training at a time that suits you.

CPD on Demand hosts technical videos delivered by industry experts and accredited by ECSA, giving you access to the industry-specific knowledge you require to actively develop your professional skills.

Why subscribe to CPD on Demand?

You can now earn one CPD (Continuing Professional Development) credit per year, one in Category 1 from 3S Media's CPD on Demand video programme and one in Category 3 if you subscribe to one of 3S Media's industry publications. You can choose from all the courses dating back to 2013. With CPD on Demand, you can earn your CPD credits quickly and easily.

How long does it take?

Each course contains ten 40-60 minute videos, which together are equivalent to a one-day event. After you watch the video, you take a short online test on the video and submit. All videos are validated for CPD credits in accordance with ECSA's CPD guidelines.

How long are courses available for?

Courses are available to view from the date of purchase. Should you fail the test, you have the opportunity to retake it.

What do I get after I pass?

Once you have completed each video and passed the test, the system will generate a certificate for you, available to download. This certificate will also feature the video's validation number. This can then be included in your CPD records as evidence of having completed the CPD on Demand course(s).

Can I view the course on my smartphone or tablet?

All CPD on Demand courses can be viewed on all mobile devices with an internet connection.

Accredited by an ECSA recognised VA.
